

ASSIGNMENT 1B

You have an end-point:

You work at Project X, and your job is to create a web application that will store, retrieve and delete the student's record

Create an application, that will store, retrieve, and delete a record from a json object:

The fields consist of:

Name:

Age:

Marks:

- The user must be able to populate the information in a form, and store it in a table.
- The form must allow me to view, and delete the information
- A github repository must be created in your account